Big Garden Birdwatch

28-30 January 2022

Welcome to Big Garden Birdwatch 2022

What is it?

Big Garden Birdwatch is exactly as it sounds! Since 1979, people have watched the birds in their garden, park or balcony for an hour, and let the RSPB know what they've seen. That helps us know which birds are doing well, and which ones are in trouble. It's fun, and you'll get to know your garden birds too.

Every birdwatch counts!

What will you see?

How to do it

Taking part in Big Garden Birdwatch is easy!

- 1) Pick an hour between 28 and 30 January 2022. (Top Tip: It doesn't matter what time of day you do your Big Garden Birdwatch, but you'll definitely see more birds early in the morning.)
- 2) When you see a bird, tick it off. Just count the birds that have landed.
- 3) Count the most birds you see at one time. So, if you see four starlings in a group, then two later on, your count will be four (not six, that's cheating!). You can use the counting sheet below.
- 4) When your hour is up, let us know what you've seen using www.rspb.org.uk/birdwatch
If you didn't see any birds in your hour, it's still really useful information for us. Please let us know. You've got until 20 February 2022 to let us know your results.
- 5) That's it! Thank you so much. You're now a Big Garden Birdwatcher!

Craft

PAWPRINT
BADGES

- ✂ Create your own bird identification chart for the top 5 birds from 2021's Big Garden Birdwatch: House sparrow, Blue tit, Starling, Blackbird and Woodpigeon.
- ✂ Design a garden that's bird friendly using our free 'Garden Design' resource to help you.

What?

Birds need food, water, shelter and a place to nest. Putting out food will attract birds, and how about planting flowers and trees to help insects, as well as birds? Including a bird bath or pond is a great addition and don't forget a nest box or two.

- ✂ Make a poster or leaflet about the use of insecticides and slug pellets and their impact on our garden birds.
- ✂ Build a bird box using the RSPB nest box plans (rspb.org.uk/fun-and-learning/for-families/family-wild-challenge/activities/build-a-birdbox/) or make a paper birdhouse using our free resource.
- ✂ Create your own bird feeder.

How?

There are so many different ideas for DIY bird feeders; from recycled plastic bottles to toilet rolls and pine cones. You can find instructions on the RSPB website here: rspb.org.uk/fun-and-learning/for-kids/games-and-activities/activities/make-a-recycled-bird-feeder

- ✂ Build your own bird table to attract birds to your garden or green space.
- ✂ Set up a bird bath; you could create one from recycled or reclaimed materials. Remember to try and keep your bird bath ice free in the winter too.
- ✂ Weave your own bird's nest. Create a natural bowl by weaving together twigs and sticks, just like a bird. Help nesting birds in spring by leaving out natural materials such as grass cuttings, straw, moss and plant cuttings.
- ✂ Make your own felt or clay bird decoration. Why not model it on your favourite garden bird? See how many real ones you can spot during Big Garden Birdwatch.
- ✂ Put up a nest box or roosting pocket for birds to roost in during winter. Many smaller birds including blue tits will use boxes in the winter as well as during nesting season in the spring.

Food

PAWPRINT
BADGES

- ✚ Investigate the different seeds and nuts in bird food; where do they come from, how do they grow, can you find out?
- ✚ Why not make some bird biscuits or cakes? You could decorate them to look like your favourite garden birds.
- ✚ Make some fat balls and help feed the birds in your garden all year round. Remember! It's important to use shop bought, unused lard for this activity. You can find some instructions here: rspb.org.uk/fun-and-learning/for-families/family-wild-challenge/activities/feed-the-birds
- ✚ Use an apple or an orange to make a fruity bird feeder for the garden.

How?

Slice your apple or orange in half. For apples remove the core and make a small hollow in each half of your apple. For oranges, remove the segments until you are left with the peel. Push wooden kebab skewers through the fruit, from side to side, around 1cm from the cut edge to make a cross. Tie string to the ends of the skewers for hanging and fill your fruit with seeds. Hang in the garden and watch for feathered visitors.

- ✚ Discover what to feed birds and when. You can find some great information on the RSPB website, here: rspb.org.uk/birds-and-wildlife/advice/how-you-can-help-birds/feeding-birds/when-to-feed-garden-birds
- ✚ Find out what a food web is and how our most common garden birds fit in. Why not create your own food web diagram?
- ✚ Many of our garden birds enjoy eating worms and caterpillars. Have a go at making some edible jelly worms for you to enjoy.
- ✚ Mix up your own chocolate, bird's nest, crispy cakes.
- ✚ A robin's parental instincts are highly developed and they are often reported to feed the chicks of other species. Make some food and share it with friends or another family.
- ✚ The house sparrow (the number 1 bird in the Birdwatch 2021) has a short beak, ideal for cracking seeds. Use nut crackers and crack open some nuts (the type you get at Christmas) to see how the sparrow's beak works.
- ✚ In the spring and summer soft apples, pears, bananas and grapes are great foods to leave out for our feathered friends. Use these fruits to mix up your own fruit salad.

Games

PAWPRINT
BADGES

- ✋ Create your own trump card game for garden birds and compare size, weight, wingspan and population size. Check out the RSPB A-Z list of birds, here: rspb.org.uk/birds-and-wildlife/wildlife-guides/bird-a-z
- ✋ Identify birds from their songs. You can find recordings of each bird via the link above.
- ✋ Have your own caterpillar relay. In spring blue tit chicks can eat up to 100 caterpillars per day so to feed a brood of 10, adults need to find as many as 1000 caterpillars per day!

How?

Hide 'caterpillars' (short lengths of string/yarn) around your space. Race to gather the caterpillars and bring them back to your nest (base). You could race to fill a jam jar or compete to see who can collect the most in a set amount of time. Add another level of challenge by wearing a sock on your hand as a beak and use different colours of yarn.

- ✋ Play a game of garden bird bingo. You could make your own bingo cards and see which birds you can spot in order to tick them off OR you can have a traditional game of bingo using bird names instead of numbers.
- ✋ Create and play a game of garden bird pairs. The population of our garden birds is measured by the number of breeding pairs. You can discover the populations of all our native birds on the RSPB's A-Z list (link above).
- ✋ Guess the weights of the garden birds using money.

How?

£1 weighs 8.75g, 50p = 8g, 20p = 5g and 5p = 3.25g. A blue tit weighs just 11g so just less than £1.05!! See if you can accurately guess how heavy some of our other garden birds are using money.

- ✋ Starlings are marvellous mimics and can incorporate other animal and even human and mechanical noises into their songs! Have a go at a copy cat game and see how accurately you can copy someone else's whistle, song or noise.
- ✋ Play some online games; you can feed some hungry chicks and play Feather Frenzy on the RSPB website, here: rspb.org.uk/fun-and-learning/for-kids/games-and-activities/online-games-for-kids
- ✋ Have a game of Duck, Duck, Goose using common garden birds, i.e. Robin, Robin, Blackbird.
