

Unicorn Questing Licence

This licence, good for a lifetime and beyond (excluding St. Valentine's Day), is non-transferrable, non-negotiable (once a member, always a member) and is hereby issued to

.....
who has been examined on the regulations of unicorn questing and deemed to be exceedingly qualified to hunt unicorns.

Subsequently, they are hereby entitled to quest for unicorns here on planet Earth and elsewhere, as per applications, rules and misinterpretations of the attached guidelines.

Guidelines

Licences are granted in accordance with the following guidelines:

Questing Territories

- Enchanted forests
- Over rainbows
- Earth
- The universe

Questing Season

All day, everyday with the exception of St. Valentine's Day. You may not hunt unicorns during the celebration of love.

Questing Hours

Day or night with the exception of Christmas Eve when Father Christmas is around.

Questing Uniforms

Questers may wear any uniform they choose as long as it is individual to them.

We understand that unicorns are attracted by sparkles and glitter but these are optional.

Hunting Limits

One unicorn per person, per month. Finding more than one per month is just plain greedy and it's only kind to leave some for others to find.

Should unicorns become endangered this will be reviewed.

Questing Equipment

We recommend the following be carried by questers when looking for unicorns:

- Happiness
- Glee
- Refreshments; preferably including chocolate chip cookies
- Glitter
- A lunchbox containing marshmallows and sprinkles
- Books about and including unicorns (for reference)

It is also recommended to travel in ways other than walking; we recommend skipping.

Equal Opportunity

Anyone and everyone are entitled to a Unicorn Questing licence, provided the holder:

- Follows this guidance
- Pays nothing
- Is kind to people, animals and unicorns alike
- Does not hunt with intent to kill or maim

Optional

- Wearing rainbow clothing whilst questing
- Hugging unicorns
- Sharing tips with fellow questers
- Logging details of confirmed sightings

Declaration: I hereby agree to quest for unicorns in accordance with the guidelines above.
